FOREIGN ITEMS.

There is a novelty in the news from China to which we have been unaccustomedthe Chinese have captured the right hands of Lord Elgin and the Times; that is the hands that hold the pen. Mr. Harry Parkes, who has proved so active and useful a diplomatic have all read with pleasure and profit, have had the honor of an unwilling sojourn in the Chinese capital, which they are sure to have made the most of. Anderson, of Fane's Horse, and Captain Brabazon, of Brigadier Crotton's staff, both valuable officers, were included in the capture.

The death of the Duke of Norfolk is announced by the last foreign arrival. The deceased nobleman was the fourteenth Duke of-Norfolk, was born in 1815, and had succeeded to the dukedom only four years ago. He was a son-in-law of Lord Lyons. His son and heir, the Earl of Arundel and Surrey, is a found in this market. boy only 13 years old.

It appears the French journals are sorely puzzled about the significance of Lincoln's election. The Paris correspondent of the the whole matter, on the authority of 'enlightened Americans' residing there, as follows:-"While the Paris journals are trying to spell their way to the real signification of Mr. Lincoln's election to the Presidency of the United States, it is most gratifying to hear enlightened Americans in this city, attribute, in a great degree, the success of the anti-slavery candidate to the excellent effect produced by the visit of the Prince of

The Paris Moniteur says that the health of the Empress Eugenie exhibits marked improvements since she has been on her English tour. Her majesty was at last accounts in Scotland, where some popular enthusiasm had been displayed.

A Kanagawa correspondent of the New York Tribune describes as follows an audience which our minister, Hon. Townsend Harris, had with the Emperor of Japan on the 20th of August:-"All the ceremonial marks of respect were paid him, the lack of which at his audience last year gave occasion | house. Please give us a call, our stock is comof offence to all the foreign embassies .- plete and shown with pleasure. This was the first audience granted since that time."

The common impression that the British Government is administered on a scale of greater costliness than most of its Continental neighbors is shown to be erroneous by statistical reports of the expenses of the principal European nations.

The sprightly Parisian correspondent of the Boston Evening Traveller, communicates the following:-"The great rage now among the fine ladies is to have a negro lad, a sort of page, about them, to carry their fan, to hold their parasol. The uglier the negro is, the higher are his wages, It is nothing but tening of these pagans seems in those days to have afforded something like an assembly or festival to his mistress' acquaintances .-Lord Chesterfield in one of his letters records that he treated his friends with the christening of a "Black-a-Moor," and says "he renounced his likeness, (you know his phraseblack as the d---!,) with great devotion, to the infinite edification of a very numerous audience of both sexes."

It is stated that the aggregate standing armies of Europe reach two millions in a population of two hundred millions, being an average of about one per cent., which proportion would give Great Britain three hundred thousand soldiers and sailors, instead of which she has only one hundred and

No family does its own washing in Paris. To help the poor, the government has long lines of floating wash-houses along the banks of the ever-muddy Seine. Water-wheels, worked by the rapid current, pump the water into troughs, and there are boilers for heating it.

Rev. Dr. Croly, the well-known author and preacher, fell dead in the street, in London, on the 24th ult. For twenty-five years previous to his death he had been rector of St. Stephen's, Walbrook, London-a living presented to him by Lord Brougham when Chancellor. He was the author of several works, and also edited the works of Pope and Jeremy Taylor.

RAT RAISING IN CHINA .- The rat is an animal which occupies a large space in the food of the Chinese. Its flesh is eaten, as well as that of the cat and dog, either fresh or salted-those which are salted being principally intended for consumption on board of the junks. The Chinese farmers, finding rat raising to be profitable, have invented a very ingenious convenience for breeding them. They have ratteries as we, in New England, have our pigeon houses. They are made by furnishing places, which are favored by rats, with bottles having necks large enough to admit the hand. The animals take these bottles, which are bricked into the walls, for holes, make their nests there and raise their young, and the farmer ties, all of whom we will dispose of on the goes from hive to hive to gather his har- terms. vest of young rats as ours do to gather the pigeons which they raise.

CHAPPED HANDS .- As there are many housekeepers who suffer at this season with chapped hands, we publish for their information the following receipe, which a communicant assures us is effective as a cure, having made a personal trial of it: Wash the hands clean in warm water; then take common lamp oil and grease them well. Rub the oil in thoroughly and wipe with a dry rag. Practice this every morning for a week or so, and the cracks will leave the hands, and the skin will become soft. The remedy is a simple and inexpensive one, and as our correspondent recommends it highly, we suggest to those suffering with chapped hands, a trial of its virtues.

Money and Produce in Chicago.-We have stored in our warehouses enormous amounts of produce, enough at any time to keep exchange ruling at h per cent. But | there is no produce moved, no pork packed. and nothing done to keep currency circulating, because the farmers and in fact everybody else, are afraid of it. We hazard nothing to say, that there is now two millions more currency here than four weeks ago. From the city and country money is coming in as fast as it can be gathered. On this account the banks keep their rate of exchange so high, in order to deter all outsiders as much as possible from sending in any more. — Chicago Dem.

To stop cracks in chimneys and stoves, the insertion of stove pipes, open joints in pipes, and all places of the kind: Dissolve common salt in water-as much as the water will take up-and thicken it with clean ashes till it becomes a mortar of proper temper for working. This will harden in a short time to firm cement, and is better than mortar for the purpose mentioned, and can always be obtained.

"A REMARKABLY FINE ALE .- Mr. Davison's successor in the Washington Brewery, corner of K and 27th streets, Mr. Colineau, is now manufacturing XX ale and porter and brown stout, all of which reflect infinite credit on his establishment. His ale compares favorably, indeed, with the best Philadelphia and Albany ales, being, according to our taste, muck more like the best English and Scotch ales than those imported from either of those cities. If he continues to produce so superior an article, he will shortly make a reputation for his brewery surpassing that of any Northern establishment.'
